CBD chews work by affecting the body's endocannabinoid system (ECS). The ECS is made up of neurotransmitters and receptors that control many different things in the body, like mood, pain, sleep, and the immune reaction. CBD helps the ECS stay in balance and stimulates it by binding to receptors in it. This can make different systems in the body work better.

Neuroprotective Properties: CBD can protect the brain and may help people with nerve conditions like epilepsy and multiple sclerosis.
